

RecessReset

transforming student dysregulation and lost instruction time through a daily self-regulation routine

The Challenge

Transition times between recess and instruction disrupt learning. Students struggle to refocus, frustrated teachers lose instructional time, and schools don't know where to fit in SEL & Tier 1 PBIS.

The Solution

Teachers guide 3min self-regulation video lessons during transitions to help students practice calming exercises – effectively resetting class while building vital mindsets and skills in a consistent daily routine.
